Introduction

Over recent years the health service has placed an emphasis on quality, staff and service user safety by developing an infrastructure for integrated quality, safety and risk management. The aim is to achieve excellence in governance for quality and safety (HSE, 2016). Under priority 2 (Staff Engagement) of the People Strategy, the HSE has committed to prioritising “effective two way communication as a core enabler of meaningful staff engagement”. In line with this commitment, the HSE actively promotes and supports employee engagement when establishing arrangements for securing co-operation in the workplace on all matters pertaining to safety, health and welfare. Consultation will be made in advance and in a timely manner to allow employees to consider, discuss and provide opinion on matters before managerial decisions are implemented (HSE, Corporate Safety Statement)

Context

In accordance with Section 26, of the Safety, Health and Welfare at Work Act, 2005 and the HSE’s governance arrangements a Safety Committee is established at local level to include balanced representation between management, employees and Safety Representatives. In smaller facilities the role and function of the Safety Committee are incorporated into and clearly defined in the Terms of Reference of Team Meetings.

Purpose

This document provides guidance, sample terms of reference and other useful resources for services to adapt when establishing local Health and Safety Committees.
Guidance for the establishment of Local Health and Safety Committees

Purpose - Local Health and Safety Committee
The main purpose of the local Health and Safety Committee is to provide a forum that facilitates employee participation on the steps taken to safeguard their safety, health and welfare within the workplace.

Objectives - Local Health and Safety Committee
Identify a set of goals that the Committee plans to achieve. To be most effective objectives should be Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant and Time-bound (SMART), within the scope / remit of the committee.

Examples include:

Monitoring
- The quality and safety of the local service measured through proactive risk management processes including risk assessments, risk registers, incident analysis and investigation reports, HSA Correspondence, etc.
- Representations made to the employer
- Staff Training
- Implementation of Quality Improvement Plans (QIP’s) arising from:
  - Level 2, National audit reports
  - Level 1, ward / department level audit reports
  - Claims / costs

Assurance
- Legislative requirements are complied with
- Risk assessments are completed in consultation with employees and actions escalated where necessary
- Policies, procedures and guidelines are available to staff and being adhered to

Key Performance Indicators
- Revision of Site Specific Safety Statement
- Reduction in incident numbers
- Reduction in reportable occurrences
- Increase in % staff receiving statutory health and safety training
- Increase in resources expended on health and safety
- Increase in number of self assessments (level 1 audit)
- Reduction in the number of non compliances
- Reduction in cases of occupational injury
- Reduction in claims and costs

Identifying Trends
- Accident / incident statistics
- Areas of excellence
Role of the Safety Committee:

The committee should operate in accordance with its terms of reference, and set a specific agenda which could include items such as the following:

- Any representations made to the employer, to include representation from the Safety Representative(s) on any matters relating to safety, health and welfare
- The implementation of Quality Improvement Plans (QIPs) arising from audits
- Information relating to incidents, dangerous occurrences and instances of occupational ill health at the place of work
- Progress reports on the implementation of risk assessments and the Site Specific Safety Statement
- Implementation of the health and safety training programme and review health and safety training reports
- The promotion of activities on safety and health at work and wellbeing programmes
- Compliance and recommended actions that will improve the effectiveness of the local safety management programme
- The integration of safety, health and welfare into each respective service
- Local Key Performance Indicators (KPI) in line with HSE objectives to measure compliance with legislation and best practice
- The effectiveness of consultation arrangements

Please note where integrated committees exist ensure that staff safety, health and welfare is afforded appropriate time to address all relevant issues at each meeting and receives appropriate action.

Membership of the local Health and Safety Committee

In accordance with Schedule 4 of the Safety, Health and Welfare at Work Act, 2005 (Appendix 1), the Safety Committee shall consist of balanced service wide representation of Managers, Employees and Safety Representatives (where appointed). It is imperative that senior management are represented in order to facilitate the decision making process. The number of members on the Safety Committee should be representative to facilitate a workable group (please refer to Appendix 1) and include representation from those working in high risk areas. It is recommended that Employee participation on the Safety Committee is rotated as this raises awareness and promotes engagement by including a wider group of people.

Suggested membership of the Safety Committee: (non-exhaustive list)

- Service Manager / Operations Manager or equivalent (Chair)
- Department Heads
- Employee representatives
- Safety Representatives
- Appropriate support service representation e.g. Occupational Health, Health and Safety, Quality/Safety/Risk (as required)
- Administrative support
Accountability of the Safety Committee

It is important to establish who the Safety Committee Chair reports to within the service. The Chair of the Safety Committee should be accountable to the Executive Quality and Safety Committee or equivalent and where this committee does not exist, to the most senior person within the Service.

Frequency and Duration of Meetings

The frequency, duration and times of meetings shall be agreed by members of the Safety Committee and be identified during the development of the Terms of Reference. There is a provision in the legislation that safety committees should not meet more frequently than once every three months and the duration should not exceed one hour.

Setting the Agenda

The agenda should be set in consultation with safety committee members and circulated in advance of each meeting accompanied by any supporting documentation. To improve efficiency, topics should be arranged in line with objectives. Please refer to Appendix 1 for a sample agenda.

Reports: Local Safety Committee

In line with the objectives of the Safety Committee, the content and frequency of reports to be submitted to the Executive Quality and Safety Committee or equivalent should be agreed by members. Please refer to Appendix 4 for sample report template.

Performance

The Safety Committee should clearly identify the quality indicators and outcomes that will be measured to ensure that the committee is performing effectively. Performance measures could include:

- Percentage attendance of members
- Review the progress of the group – how well are they operating? How do they feel they are performing? How do others feel they are performing?

Approval and Review Date

The Terms of Reference are prepared in consultation with the Executive Quality and Safety Committee or equivalent, communicated and agreed by members of the local Health and Safety Committee. The terms of reference should be reviewed annually. Please refer to Appendix 2 for Sample terms of reference.
